Explore with the True Kona Boy

Big Island born and a true Kona Boy, owner Iwa K. T. Kalua has spent his entire life living and learning the local ways here in Hawaii. Iwa is a proud Hawaiian entrepreneur, certified lifeguard and kayak enthusiast with thousands of hours of guiding experience. Join Iwa, his family and his well trained guides as they share the vast history, culture and deep hidden beauty that can only be visualized with the narration of our certified and knowledgeable staff.

"I was managing Kona Boy's Kayaks in the early 90's, when I realized that I had more to offer visitors than the normal kayak experience. My love and respect for the ocean and the 'Big Island' drove me to start my venture in this industry just over a decade ago. With education as our tool and preservation as our mission, let me and my staff show you a unique kayaking experience at one of the local bays here on the Island."
